Pratice abstract

Description

The market of pig meat is facing a bad market situation, which is in particular compromising the economic margins of pig farmers. Unlike the market demand and the legislative orientation of the EU of the last years the pig meat sector has not been able to shift towards a welfare friendly production as it risks to compromise its economic efficiency, profitability and sustainability. The Responsible Ham Operational Group identifies, develops and promotes process innovations based on high standards of animal welfare in order to obtain animal friendly processed pork products. In particular the innovations are
